Thinking Out Loud

H. M. L.

Reading Walter Lippman's article in the current issue of the Atlantic Monthly regarding the present world trend toward the totalitarian state, gives one pause. Lippman concludes it is not technology, the increasing use of machines, which is again reducing man to a serf-life condition from which he began his escape three centuries ago, but to laws which have tended to give certain groups monopolistic powers. That is to say the power and freedom achieved by the individual, through the long years by means of the Bill of Rights, the establishment of parliament, the French Revolution, American Revolution and the Constitution of the United States, have been passed on to great corporations without questioning whether such individual liberty should be accorded to groups of individuals.

The implications of Lippman's reasoning are that the establishment of monopolies inevitably leads to more monopoly. That is, by granting corporations all the powers that are guaranteed the private and individual citizen, we have established great groups, constantly seeking and expanding power, finally to challenge the government itself. The government, in turn, founded on the suffrages of all the people, strikes back by seeking to arrogate to itself all monopolistic powers, and to destroy the monopolies, which the people have granted to industrial and utility groups throughout this country.

Lippman emphasizes the fact that it is not the machines, or the mechanics which are at fault in this modern world of ours, but the basic laws which have conferred upon groups monopolistic powers. Lippman points out that this inevitably leads to a static condition as opposed to a dynamic and growing condition. He might have cited this matter of common knowledge, that there are dozens of patents which have been bought up by the telephone monopoly, patents which undoubtedly would have greatly improved the telephone service throughout this country, and, instead of putting to use these improved patents they have been ruthlessly suppressed. In other words monopoly becomes a vehicle for retrogression.

The cure for centralization of power in industrial groups, it must be inferred from Lippman's reasoning is not to transfer those powers to government, rolling all monopolies into one great monopoly, or totalitarian state, but to de-centralize these powers and to restore in some measure a competitive system, which naturally tends to experiment with everything new which science or invention offers.

We have thought for a long time that Henry Ford was on the right track toward a solution of much of our problem. He proposes to decentralize industry, putting up industrial plants through the villages and counties of this great country, and establishing families upon a plot of ground where they may give part of their time to growing fruits and vegetables, or raising domestic animals, and part of their time to factory employment.

The Roosevelt regime is failing because it has sought to take away from the great corporations the powers granted them, mostly after the Civil War, and to arrogate to the government other and more comprehensive powers, which in the long run would stifle all individual initiative, all personal freedom as we and our fathers have defined personal freedom, and eventually makes every man, woman and child a cog in the wheel of state. A government in short, similar to those which originated and maintained for centuries the doctrine of divine right of kings. Note the recrudescense of this old idea in the present state of Germany, where there is a disposition on the part of a large proportion of the population to exalt and to deify Adolph Hitler.

We do not believe this country ever needed a dose of autocratic government medicine. We believe that in the natural course of events we would have recovered from our depression, as we had recovered from other depressions, without this drastic Rooseveltian purge. We feel that among a people of some 125,000,000, it were better that a few should have suffered extreme hardship than that all should have lost their ancient rights and liberties. And we believe that if the government had never raised a hand, there would have been no starvation. We, as a people, have always been generous, charitable, freely giving a helping hand, not only to our own distressed, but we have spent millions upon millions to feed the hungry of China, Russia, Germany, Belgium, Hungary, Austria, Poland, Turkey and many another country. It is unthinkable that anyone of our citizens would have been permitted to go hungry.

Governor Proclaims Calif. Newspaper Week

Today is the first day of Newspaper Week which is being celebrated throughout California. Many publishers during the week will turn their paper over for one issue to be written and edited by high school classes in journalism, the local women's club, or other civic organization. Often this experience is valuable to the publisher as well as to the editor volunteers of a day.

A week from Friday, October 16, the Nugget will celebrate this event, by turning the publication of that issue over to the high school students on the staff of the Quill and the Searchlight and to other young journalists in the Nevada City high school.

Residents of Nevada City are invited to call at the Nugget office this week and get acquainted with their newspaper and the methods used in publishing it.

PROCLAMATION

Inasmuch as the newspaper of today is not only a highly organized business enteprise but a social institution of general public interest, it is fitting that a period of time be set aside for special consideration of its merits.

In presenting incidents of local, state, national and even international concern the newspaper, becomes an agency af civic and spiritual progress; and as a member of a great fraternity its influence reaches even to the ends of the earth.

In view of the importance of the press in moulding public opinion, now, therefore, I, Frank F. Merriem, Governor of the State of California, do hereby proclaim the period between October fifth and twelfth as "Newspaper Week" in this Commonwealth.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State of California to be affixed this 16th day of September, A. D.

(Seal)

(Signed) FRANK F. MERRIAM
Governor of California.

Attest:

(Signed) FRANK C. JORDAN,
Secretary of State.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE WILL MEET TONIGHT

The proposed new road from Washington to Nevada City will be discussed and considered at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce tonight at its regular bimonthly meeting. All members are urged to attend.

CASSIDY CERTAIN OF G.O.P. VICTORY

B. A. Cassidy, Republican Campaign Manager for the southern portion of the California Second Congressional District has completed a trip over the territory. He returned full of optimism over the chances of victory for the Republicans in November. This optimism is founded on personal observation by Mr. Cassidy and on interviews with miners, owners and underground workmen, and the farmers.

The miners, said Mr. Cassidy, believe there will be no drop in the price of gold regardless of the result of the election. They believe, he said, that the international conference to stabilize currencies will fix values at approximately the present levels, $35 for the American gold ounce. This will maintain the current profit margin for the operators who will thus be able to maintain current miners' wages. Thus, neither the operator or laborer has anything to fear from the result of the election.

Many farmers, said Mr. Cassidy, are pleased with Mr. Landon's farm program and all of them are solidly behind a program ensuring the elimination of waste and extravagance and the consequent lowering of taxes which increase the cost of supplies, tools and farming machinery.

The efforts of the Young Republican clubs and the Republican Woman's Clubs are having wonderful results, said Mr. Cassidy, the young men being impressed with the necessity of preserving their constitutional rights and the women desiring to lower the costs of living by decreasing the hidden taxes on food, clothing and household supplies now so high because of extravagance and waste and political favoritism.

SHAW BUILDING REMODELED FOR CARVETH INS. CO.

Again the old is being done away with for the new, V. R. Shaw is completely remodeling his building at the junction of Commercial, Coyote and Main streets in this city. Contractors are tearing out the interior of the first story occupied by Carveth Insurance company and will remodel it into two large office rooms on the south and west while there will be a garage built on the east. Plate glass windows and most modern interior will give the building a neat appearance. The balcony is to be replaced and the whole building a new roof. Carveth Insurance company will occupy the office when finished.

Mr. Shaw, owner of the building lives in an apartment upstairs. R. P. Mussetter of Auburn is contractor with E. Johnson of Grass Valley as foreman. Louis Monfre and Charles Golian of Nevada City are tearing out the large granite slabs on the porches and will replace them with 95 feet of cement sidewalks. The building is to be repainted. The Carveth Insurance company is occupying a store space in the building until the office is done.

When completed the building will be a fine addition to that part of the city's business district.

BRANCH OF COALITION OF AMERICAN WOMEN HERE

A group of Nevada City ladies met in the Hoge Company office on Friday afternoon and organized a branch of the Independent Coalition of American Women. This Coalition of American Women has branches throughout the United States. They meet to study American problems and legislation and take an active part in upholding American ideals.

At Friday's meeting Mrs. H. P. Davis was elected chairman pro-tem, Mrs. F. F. Cassidy, vice chairman and Mrs. H. E. Kjorlie, secretary.

JERRY BARKER AVIATOR, KILLED IN PLANE CRASH

G. E. "Jerry" Barker, aged 31 years and a native of Grass Valley, plunged to his death while attempting to make a second loop in stunt flying before a throng of 25,000 people at a Sacramento airport yesterday afternoon. He was senior partner of the Barker-Whitney Air Service company of Sacramento. Mr. Barker had been ill three weeks and complained of feeling terrible before making the flight. It is thought he lost consciousness while attempting the second loop.

He was born in Grass Valley and learned to fly in 1929 taking training at Mills Field, San Francisco. In 1933 he was chosen manager of the Summit Flying Service and two years ago formed the new partnership.

Surviving him are his wife, who is visiting in New York City; mother, Mrs. Lauretta Barker, and two sisters, Miss Ruth Barker and Mrs. Elmo Yocum, of Grass Valley; and a third sister, Mrs. Lauretta Day of Alameda, who witnessed his tragic death.

Funeral services will be at two o'clock Wednesday afternoon in Grass Valley.

GRASS VALLEY MAN KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Jack Clifford, son of Howard Clifford of Grass Valley, was fatally injured Sunday morning when the car he was driving hit a barricade near Vallejo Junction. He died upon reaching a hospital a short time later. The young man was with Norvel Hagen and Mickey Murray of Grass Valley and Miss Enid Ledoux of Sacramento, and they were returning from attending the University of California-St. Marys football game. The others were slightly injured in the accident.

Young Clifford, about 24 years old, leaves beside his father, a wife, a little three year old daughter, and an aunt, Mrs. Errol MacBoyle all of Grass Valley. He was well known in Grass Valley, where he had a wide circle of friends and the news of his sudden death came as a great shock to them.

SCOUT COUNCIL TO TAKE ACTION ON TROOP BLDG.

The Nevada City Scout council will meet tomorrow (Tuesday) evening in the Chamber of Commerce rooms to discuss the proposed lodge for Scouts and Campfire Girls in Pioneers park. Some members of the city council have indicated that it mighe be feasible for the two organizations to take over Seaman's Lodge, use it for their own purposes and make such arranements as are practicable for other public use of the lodge under a committee of the Scout council.

Horace Curnow, chairman of the council, states that the Scouts have accumulated over $800 in cash from many donations made to the building fund, and have more than $100 in pledges to be redeemed during the year. In all probability the council will be called upon to decide how much they can afford to pay toward the overhead expense of Tahoe area. The council has been asked to pay $400 per year, a considerable increase over the amount last year.

MRS. HAROLD ROBINSON BADLY HURT IN FALL

Mrs. Harold Robinson Sunday evening tripped as she was descending from the living to the dining room of her home, Lady Jane Manor, and falling fractured her hip and her shoulder bone. She is now at Jones Memorial hospital in Grass Valley. It was five years ago that she sustained a fall which broke her other hip.

Englebright Nails Democratic Canard About Gold Price

Before a large group of Republicans who sat down to dinner Friday night in the banquet room of the National Hotel, Congressman Harry L. Englebright refuted one of the canards set afloat by the Democratic high command regarding the Republican candidate's attitude toward the price of gold. Democratic leaders have industriously circulated a statement to the effect that Governor Landon, if elected President would reduce the price of gold to the old figure of $20.67 an ounce, or below the present rate of $35 an ounce.

Forty attended the dinner. Bert Cassidy of Auburn, campaign manager for Landon and Knox in this congressional district, Paul Ulrich, chairman of the Republican county central committee, were speakers at the meeting. Mrs. H. P. Davis, chairman of the branch of the Independent Coalition of American Women also made a short address.

Declared Congressman Englebright:

For some time the question has been asked as to whether or not the outcome of the presidential election of Governor Landon will bring about the lowering of the price of gold below $35 an ounce. The answer is absolutely "No." Perhaps we wonder if the price of gold will be lowered because we have only been accustomed to the price of $35 an ounce for a comparatively short time.

When gold was at $20.67 per ounce, I doubt if any one of us ever thought of it being lowered below that value. This was because it had sold at $20.67 for such a long period and because we knew at that price it was the basis of the credit structure of the world. The entire credit structure of the civilized world is now based upon $35 an ounce gold and to lower the price would bring about financial turmoil and even bankruptcy.

The study of the history of gold for hundreds of years back shows that it has steadily advanced in price. Gold at the present value of $35 is not a fictitious or legislative value but a commodity price value with the possibility of increasing in dollars per ounce. Governor Landon on this matter is absolutely clear.

Permit me to read to you a telegram sent by him to the Republican Convention, in which he states his position on monetary and currency matters. This telegram was sent prior to his nomination and he desired to be placed upon record in this and other subjects prior to his name being placed before the convention. The telegram with reference to this and other subjects, reads as follows:

"To the Delegates of the Republican National Convention:

"My name is to be presented for your consideration as a candidate for the nomination for President of the United States."

"The platform recommended by your Committee on resolutions and adopted by the convention has been communicated to me."

"I note that according to the terms of that platform the acceptance of the nomination tended by this convention carries with it as a matter of private honor and public faith, an understanding by each candidate to be true to the principles and program herein set forth."

"If nominated, I unqualifidely accept the word and spirit of that undertaking."

"However, with that candor which you and the country are entitled to expect of me. I feel compelled before you proceed with the consideration of my name to submit my interpretation of certain planks in the platform so that you may be advised as to my views. I could not in conscience do otherwise."

That portion of his telegram dealing with currency and monetary matters reads as follows:

"The convention advocates a sound currency to be preserved at all hazards. I agree that the first requisite to a sound and stable currency is a balanced budget. The second requisite, as I view it, is a currency erpressed in terms of gold and convertible into gold."

"I recognize however, that the second requisite must not be made effective until and unless it can be done without penalizing our domestic ecenomy and without injury to our producers of agricultural products and other raw materials."

In other words, Governor Landon served notice upon the country that he left the door open to raise the price of gold, and his statement precludes any possibility of lowering the price of gold. The rumor that has been in existence that the outcome of the election might bring about a reduction in the price of gold is without either foundation or fact and as far as Governor Landon is concerned, his position is clear and explicit, as the foregoing telegram to the Republican Convention shows.

Host To The Trailers

(Contributed)

California—host to the world, host to the nation; and now, host to the nation on wheels, the trailer brigade!

The mushroom growth of these mobile homes fostering nomadic living on an unprecendented scale is no less than astonishing. Already there are more than 300,000, and by next year it is estimated there'll be half a million. And a dozen years hence, say some sociologists, a quarter of the population will be free wheeling it hither and yon in trailer homes.

Imagine what this can mean for California's $200,000,000 tourist crop! It will certainly grow. It might even double in a decade.

A little foresight, at this early stage of the trailer movement, will pay big dividends. California can prepare now to be a good host to the trailers by providing more auto camp and park facilities, and thus get the jump on other statescompeting for this business.

The beauty of it is that there is now at hand a situation ready-made to fill the need. We have a half-completed state park system, with plans all laid out for the whole system of 125 parks—redwood, mountain, lake, lagoon, beach and desert parks—most with camping facilities. And the money to complete it is in sight, without bond issue or new taxes.

That money will come in royalties from state-owned oil under tidelands, if voters pass proposition Number 4 on the November ballot. Engineers and experts are satisfied with it as a solution to drilling and leasing problems which will make the oil available. And it provides that half the state's royalties must be used for state parks.

California will be wise to look to the future now, and prepare to be a good host to the rising flood of trailers. After all, an extra hundred million or so added to our tourist revenue is not to be sneezed at.

Zest

Of many human attributes,
The one which serves us best
And sets the pace before us,
Is good old fashioned zest;
Real zest for work and pleasure,
For issues of the day;
Keen zest for life and action
Through seasons dull and gay.

Zest stirs our lax ambitions,
It whispers "courage" too,
Zest furnishes incentives
For seeing problems through;
We need it in our business,
In workshop, home and store,
We need it whether building dams
Or polishing a floor.

Zest urges understanding
Of things we see and hear,
Zest leads to life long learning
And progress year by year;
It whips us into action,
It bids us dare and do;
I'm going to cultivate it,
And so indeed should you.

Zest knows that Opportunity
Will not stand by and wait,
So at the first faint tapping,
Zest opens wide the gate;
And many times zest scorns delay,
And cries, "go and make a din,
Knock on the bald one's hard wood door—
Knock till he lets you in!"

—A. MERRIAM CONNER.

P. S.—Knock, knock; Who's there? Zest, Zest who? Zest wait till I get hold of Opportunity, and will I hang on!

LABOR SUPPORTS GAS TAX BILL

The California State Federation of Labor yesterday announced endorsement of Proposition No. 10 on the November 3rd ballot, preventing diversion of gasoline taxes to oter than highway purposes.

Announcement of labor's stand was made by Edward D. Vandeleur, secretary of the organization. "Diversion of highway construction monies, which is threatened in the next legaslature," said Secretary Vandeleuf, "would cause the loss of approximately $14,500,000 in federal aid funds and would throw about 15,000 men out of employment for a year, as well as cripple trade and commerce.

"It is estimated that 91c of each highway dollar goes to labor. Automobile, oil, cement, and other industries which employ thousands of workers depend to a great extent on highway progress.

"Approval of No. 10 will prohibit the use of motor vehicle and gasoline tax monies for purposes foreign to the construction, reconstruction, and maintenance of highways and major city streets. The measure should have the unanimous support of those who seek a return to normal economic conditions and prevention of large additions to the relief rolls."

Judge Henry F. Elliott of Seattle is visiting his son Charles Elliott, at the Elliott home on Gethsemne street. Judge Elliott is a United States commissioner and has been for the past fourteen or fifteen years.

FINE NEW HOMES ADD ATTRACTION TO NEVADA CITY

Nevada City is rapidly becoming a city of beautiful homes which exemplify the latest and most charming architecture and arrangement inside.

Oliver Petersen, who is rapidly completing a five room home on north Pine street, on a lot he purchased recently from the old school property, will move his family into it between October 15 and 20. The kitchen has all modern built-in conveniences, and the rest of the house is in California stucco. Soft blending of colors make the house a cheery one.

Howard Penrose is building a fine home on the old school property and adjoining the Petersen home. A large chimney and sun porch are distinctive features, and add charm while the most modern style will prevail in the rest of the home now under construction.

Rapid work is being done on the new home of Mrs. Ruby Miller on Drummond street. A two car garage and basement are nearly completed, siding is on and nearly all the roof done. The house faces east, a large window and big fireplace add to the beauty of the living room. The home is on one of the finest lots in the city, giving a beautiful outlook on surrounding mountains and valley. It is reported it will be completed by November first.

The California farm type, one-story home of Dr. and Mrs. B. W. Hummelt is coming on rapidly, the walls and roof are constructed. They purchased a lot from Mrs. C. E. Parsons in the Gillet Nursery grounds and have a beautiful shrubbery and plants in the foreground, besides magnificent views of the mountains to the north and east. The garage is at the side of the kitchen, making a most comfortable arrangement.

At the county hospital forms are up for the three stories of the east wing. Cement has been poured for a portion of it. This will make a fine addition to the crowded institution.

Thomas Richards of north Pine street has just completed a 20 by 20 foot garage in the rear of his home.

Richard Tremaine, C. G. Sweeney and Jack Osborne enjoyed a fishing trip on the Truckee river Sunday, bringing home some fine fish.

GOOD SERVICE COSTS NO MORE

A modern establishment—a trained, intelligent and courteous personnel—distinctive motor equipment and other evidences of progress and prosperity are NOT an indication that funeral service charges will be high. A successful concern can be built only by serving honestly and well, at prices that are fair and reasonable.

He Doesn't Like The Editor

(By CLAYTON RAND)

Your scribe asked an apparently intelligent merchant the other day why he did not advertise in his local paper.

His reason was, "I don't like the editor."

I asked him then if he refused to sell merchandise to the women he did not like, or take money from customers who had no use for him.

As a matter of fact the only sound reason why any one should buy advertising space in any paper is that it stimulates sales or builds good will.

As long as subscribers read the sheet it makes no difference if the editor has coniption fits, fallen arches or false teeth.

Here is the aggressive Republican candidate for the vice-presidency, as seen by the artist Alfred Panepinto.

Let's See You Arrest Landon, Mr. Cummings

CHICAGO.—The attempt of the Roosevelt administration to frighten small store keepers from showing cards calling attention to the amount of invisible tax items concealed in the cost of nearly everything the average family needs is an indication that the question of taxation and waste is of paramount importance in this campaign.

This statement was made by Chairman John Hamilton of the Republican National committee, who asked Attorney General Cummings what he intended to do to Gov. Landon because he said in his Buffalo speech:

"We cannot buy a stitch of clothing without the government's taking in taxes a part of the money we pay out. We cannot buy an ounce of food at our grocery stores without being taxed to support the government. We cannot go to a movie, or to a baseball game, or ride in an automobile without this invisible tax arm of the government reaching out and taking a part of the money we spend.

"These hidden taxes — federal, state and local—amount to about 20 cents out of every dollar we spend. In the case of the Federal Government alone they amount to more than $5 a month for every family."

Paid his Way

Gov. Alf Landon earned the money with which to pay his way through college by working on a pipeline gang during the summer months.

SAD NEWS TO MOTHER WHILE VISITING HERE

Mrs. Sarah Bremond and sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Young, former Nevada City residents, came up from Los Angeles to spend a two weeks vacation. After a week here they received the tragic news of the sudden passing of Mrs. Young's daughter, Saturday night and left Sunday morning. The daughter had worried over her mother's making the trip, fearing it would be too much for her but was the one to be taken.

While here Mrs. Bremond and Mrs. Young called on many old time friends spending the day with Mrs. R. Carter of Nevada street. The ladies will be remembered as Misses Sarah and Elizabeth Fiddler, their late father being a local butcher years ago.

A New Scheme to Raise Prices by Taxation

You would pay for the cleverly-disguised "Retail Store License"... in higher prices for foods and other necessities of life.

DON'T be fooled by Proposition #22 on your November ballot.

By name, it is made to sound like a simple store license. Actually, the public, as usual, will bear the whole burden—through the higher prices you will pay.

The measure proposes this: Charge individual stores $1.00 a year for the right to do business. But tax chain stores $500.00 for each store, over nine.

The "joker" in such taxes is exposed by the U. S. Federal Trade Commission, which says:

"If the ability to undersell, based on greater efficiency or on elimination of credit and delivery cost, is destroyed by taxation, it is the consuming public which will really pay the tax and not the chain."

Why? Because chain stores operate on a small profit. They eliminate middlemen's profits and unnecessary in-between expenses. The savings they make are passed on to you in prices 10% below the average. The Harvard (University) Bureau of Business Research states these to be the facts.

Thus four out of five chain stores do not make enough profit to cover the tax. They must raise prices. And that means you will pay.

Some chains will be forced to close. Their competition gone, other stores will be free to boost their charges. And that means you will pay.

The tax is admittedly not for revenue purposes. It is a scheme to raise prices by taxation—to subsidize wasteful business methods at your expense.

If you agree that chain store competition helps to keep all prices reasonable—if you agree that taxes on foods and necessities are already high enough —vote NO and keep prices low.

For, stripped of its misleading name and its involved wording...22 is a tax on you—VOTE NO!

22 IS A TAX ON YOU—VOTE NO!

RETAIL STORE LICENSE Referendum against act of Legislature (Chapter 849, Statutes 1935) requiring every person or organization owning, operating or controlling one or more stores, wherein merchandise is sold at retail, obtain annual State license; prescribing fifty cents application fee for each store and one dollar license fee for one store, increasing license fee progressively for second and additional stores to five hundred dollars for each store over nine; excepts filling stations, ice distributing establishments, restaurant facilities of common carriers, newspaper offices, stores wherein sales are incidental to rendering personal service, theatres and motion picture houses.	22	YES

Amateur Hour Held at Birthday Party

The Luther Marsh home on Prospect Hill was the scene of a gay party Sunday afternoon in honor of the birthday of Mynola Jean Marsh. Twenty three little friends came to extend their good wishes and help Mynola celebrate the big occasion.

Games were played on the Marsh lawn all afternoon and contests were held to the winners of which prizes were awarded. An interesting and novel feature of the affair was the broadcasting audition at which most marvelous talents were shown. Winners were selected in the usual way, by the applause of the audience. The boys judged the girls and vice versa. The neighbors say that judging from the volume of the applause it must have been some show. Betty Jean Jacobs and Jimmy Hamilton brought down the house and received the prizes.

Sylvia Ronning received the prize for pinning the donkeys tail just where it should be, Edwin Berger won the prize in the peanut hunt. The happy group consisted of: Sylvia Ronning, Edwin Berger, Betty Jean Jacobs, Jimmy Hamilton, Betty Jean Rore, Walter Rore, Burdett Risley Mary Lin Morgan, Joy Morgan, Doris Garwood, Rolene Shearer, Margaret Shearer, Bonny White, Dale Berger, Sonny Townsend, Barbara Townsend, Bob Bonner Ruth Richerson, Mary Cartoscelli and Keith, Luther Jr., and Mynola Marsh.

GOOD LIGHT never was so cheap!

Reading music and reading books are much alike in their demands upon the eyes. Those wrong notes or passages that seem difficult may be due to insufficient light, rather than inattention. Practice becomes easier when eyes do not have to squint and foreheads wrinkle. Good light at the piano is as important as good light for reading or study. Insufficient or wrongly placed light is often the beginning of eyestrain. Good light makes all eye work easier and practice more enjoyable and more effective.

Science has now determined how much light we need to see easily and comfortably. It has also made a device, the Light Meter, which measures your lighting in a jiffy. You see for yourself the story of your lighting on a dial, as you read the story of temperature on a thermometer. How does your home lighting measure up? We will be glad to show you. There is no charge for this light testing service.

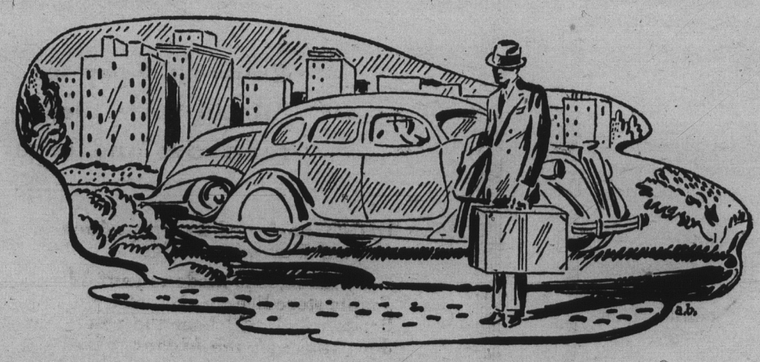
Were you ever alone in a strange city?



If you were you know the true value of this newspaper

Alone in a strange city. It is pretty dull. Even the newspapers don't seem to print the things that interest you. Headline stories are all right, but there is something lacking. That something is local news.

For—all good newspapers are edited especially for their local readers. News of your friends and neighbors is much more interesting than stories of far off places. That is why a newspaper in a strange city is so uninteresting. And that is why this newspaper is so important to you. This is Newspaper Week. It's a good time to get to...
